

Histopathological feature. Perivascular infiltrates with numerous neutrophils, scattered eosinophils, and lymphocytes with nuclear dust and focal extravasation of erythrocytes in the dermis (hematoxylin and eosin stain; white arrow, neutrophils and nuclear dust; black arrow, eosinophils; yellow arrowhead, vessels; red arrowhead, erythrocyte extravasation).

