Biography
Professor Sir Muir Gray, CBE

Muir Gray has worked in the Public Health Service in England since 1972. He has carried out a number of tasks in that time, for example the development of the National Screening Committee.

Currently he is working one day a week as a Consultant in Public Health for the University of Oxford Hospitals NHS Trust, focusing on the Oxford AHSN. In the rest of his life he is developing Better Value Healthcare, whose mission is to publish handbooks and development programmes designed to get more value from health care resources in England, and worldwide. More information can be found at www.bvhc.co.uk

He is also a Director of the National Campaign for Walking, a small charity dedicated to promoting walking as the only type of activity relevant to tens of millions people. He is married with two daughters and lives in Oxford.
