

Appendix 1: Contrast-enhanced computed tomographic scan in coronal and axial views of a 61-year-old woman with Chilaiditi syndrome. The scan shows diffuse dilatation of bowel loops and distended air of the hepatic flexure of the colon (*) with interposition between the right diaphragm and the liver. Note the haustral folds of the colon (arrow).

