

Appendix 2 (as supplied by the authors): (A) Computed tomography (CT) one month after glucocorticoid initiation showed that the hepatomegaly persisted with multiple mottled low-density lesions. (B) CT imaging three months after adalimumab therapy revealed a reduction in the hepatomegaly and decrease in the low-density areas.

